

ROBBER LOOTS THORNDALE BANK

The recent prohibition election and the results indicate clearly that the people are satisfied with the present system of control. This is not intended to impress any with the suggestion that liquor or its use is endorsed by all who voted for the status quo of present methods. Far from it. What we wish to say is that the results of the election lays a heavy responsibility on those who advocated retention of the system as the best possible way to legalize the sale and distribution of these beverages.

Anti-prohibitionists should now demand a strict enforcement of law and control to give the present system every opportunity to bring to reality all the benefits that is claimed for it as against the outlaw system which we know under the eighteenth amendment. Officers in the court house, in the incorporated town, and in every precinct should feel that the election result was in large measure a determination to test fully a system of legalized control.

Those of us who have taken the time to read the reports and to follow the progress of the Texas Liquor Control Board know that a sincere effort has been made throughout Texas to enforce the provisions of the present law which lay down a rigid code for distributors and retailers. In large measure the responsibility is now in the hands of those who won the election. As far as this column is concerned we accept that responsibility and although not speaking for those who are engaged in the sale and distribution of these beverages, it is safe to say that the record of these men suggests that there will be no hesitancy in complete and full co-operation with the officers.

Conditions that surround certain types of retail beverage dealers have in the past caused the cancellation of privilege of doing business. This rigid policy is to be encouraged. The sale and distribution of these beverages is entitled to the same high standards of business as those found in any other industry.

Selling to minors, employing people of irresponsible age, keeping improper hours, and selling to people already in a state of intoxication are among the common complaints registered throughout Texas. It is gratifying to know that these offenses have been negligible in Milam county. There is some apprehension over the development of the so-called cafe type of retail sales in connection with which a dance hall is operated. Often times owners encounter difficulty in obtaining proper respect and co-operation from their patrons. The practice of consuming liquor on the premises where purchased under conditions growing out of unrestrained entertainment is the most serious

STUDENT FLYER IN FORCED LANDING HERE

Harrie D. Riley, student flyer from Kelley Field, San Antonio was forced down here Monday night after being lost from fellow aviators on a pursuit flight from Hammond.

Thirty planes besides the Riley machine left Kelly Field for Galveston to go to Hammond and return by Temple to San Antonio. Riley was lost in a dust storm after leaving Hammond and was in the vicinity of Cameron when he discovered he was short on gasoline and would have to land. He flew about over the city for about 30 minutes.

He dropped several flares trying to locate a place to land and attracted the attention of citizens who called the fire department. Several hundred cars turned their lights on the pasture of the R. L. Batte home near Cameron so the plane could land. The fire department sent out a truck.

Riley however had already decided on the Frank McLerran field as a suitable place to set his machine down and believing he did not have sufficient gasoline to get to the R. L. Batte pasture landed in the field with only lights from bon fires of paper set by members of the McLerran family to aid him. Spectators said the landing was perfect. The plane hit a stump and slightly damaged the landing gear and rudder. There was enough gasoline in the plane to last approximately fifteen minutes. A mechanic from Kelley Field and Riley's lieutenant were called on Tuesday morning. The plane was repaired and they left for San Antonio at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon. Riley will graduate from Kelley Field next month.

Cameron Will Get Good Publicity

The Cameron Herald has been asked by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram to write a short sketch of the city of Cameron to be used in connection with an aerial photo of the town taken recently.

This photograph is to be used in the color picture section of the Sunday Star-Telegram and will result in much favorable publicity to Cameron.

Dry Election Costs Milam County $650

The recent prohibition election held in Milam county although not as expensive as the average county-wide election, cost the tax payers around $650 it was disclosed here Wednesday in figures obtained from the office of the county auditor, Conn R. Isaacs.

Mr. Isaacs has been able to effect a great many economies in these county-wide elections, however the average election costs the tax payers around $1000. In view of the overwhelming expression of the people of the county on the question involved in the election taxpayers are agreed that the expense was an unfortunate levy on the county resources at this time and were hopeful that in the future such elections will not be called unless backed up by public demand.

BAPTIST CHURCH HERE GETS A NEW MINISTER

Announcement was made here early this week that Rev. V. M. Cloyd, of Waco had accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist church. Rev. Cloyd for the past several years has been district missionary for district 14 which comprises Waco, Hillsboro, and other nearby towns.

At the invitation of a pulpit committee of the First Baptist church, Rev. Cloyd delivered a sermon here on Easter Sunday. At the service last Sunday morning the church voted to call Rev. Cloyd as pastor. Rev. Cloyd wired his acceptance and the announcement was made at the services Sunday night.

It is expected that Rev. Cloyd will be present to take over his duties as pastor here within a few weeks, as it will take some time for him to complete his present work.

Since Rev. Vernon G. Miles' resignation to accept a pastorate at Hillsboro, the church has been without a regular pastor. Dr. O. B. Herrington of Waco has served as supply pastor during this time.

TUESDAY FIRE HERE TAKES HEAVY TOLL

Loss estimated at eighty per cent of value resulted from a fire Wednesday morning at the Esslinger Feed Store and the lumber yard of F. R. Dunlap.

Mr. Esslinger said the fire started from a spark as he sought to prime a gasoline engine used in grinding feed. Flames spreading rapidly through the feed store and to the stock of lumber housed in the building could not be controlled readily by firemen and considerable damage resulted. The department under Chief Thomas spent more than an hour fighting the flames.

Mr. Dunlap said his lumber was partly covered by insurance. Miss Lillian Mondrik, owner of the building, said she would have to take a heavy loss as insurance would not cover the damage done.

Herald Museum Will Be Open Soon

The museum at The Herald plant will be open with bigger and better display within the next few days. Indian flint work, some 40,000 pieces were boxed up for moving two weeks ago and will be restored to display cases in part.

The J. B. White collection is too large to display in the limited space available, many of his finest specimens having been stored since 1929 and never seen by the public.

The Dallas museum of natural history through the Dallas Historical society is negotiating for the purchase of this collection, also Howard-Payne University in Brownwood.

The publisher will be glad to have the public see these fine displays within the next two weeks.

Infant Buried At Corinth

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at one o'clock for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruzicka of Corinth. The baby had been named Mary Frances.

The services were conducted in the home of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ruzicka by Rev. Richey, Methodist pastor at Corinth. Interment was made in Corinth cemetery.

Correction

The Herald has been requested to make a correction of a news item sent in for publication last week announcing the engagement of Miss Annie Vybiral to Jno. Staas, Jr. A 2nd notice sent in requests a correction and the publishers are glad to comply with this request stating that the announcement was error and Miss Vybiral and Mr. Staas are not engaged.

All news items sent to The Herald must be signed by the person sending them in the future or they will not be published.

CAFE DANCE HALLS FACE REGULATIONS

Dance halls operated in connection with cafes where beer is sold will be required to close at midnight and remain closed until 6 a. m. each day under the terms of an ordinance which is yet to be passed by the City Council.

The Council on Tuesday night passed a motion the purpose of which is to require compliance with these regulations. It was believed that the city could not enforce compliance with this motion without the adoption of an ordinance outlining in detail conditions to be met and also imposing a penalty for violating the same. Dance halls coming under these regulations may voluntarily close during these hours but the city is not expected to leave the matter of compliance on this basis. An ordinance will be necessary and although no official announcement has been made it was believed that the ordinance would be forthcoming.

The Texas Liquor Control law expressly prohibits the sale of intoxicating beverages in connection with the operation of any other business. Cafes are permitted to sell and serve beer and wines but are not permitted to sell and serve liquors.

Subterfuges have caused problems in enforcement of this law. The usual practice of selling liquors and providing a place where these liquors may be consumed on the immediate premises, mainly in dance halls and so-called private cafe rooms has led to disturbances, although the law does not prohibit such practice. The city by closing these dance halls at midnight seeks to bring about more conservative conditions.

Since the prohibition election held on April 10 with the wets receiving a majority of 1535 votes, conservative leaders among the wets are seeking rigid enforcement of all laws governing the sale and distribution of beverages and are also interested in imposing every possible regulation that will make conditions uniformly good throughout the county.

Cafe and dance halls to be affected by this ordinance within the city of Cameron are few in number. The action of the Council was said to have been looked upon with a wide general degree of approval.

Gene Smith city marshal, said he will strictly enforce the provisions of the motion made by the Council and was pleased with this support from the city to properly regulate these dance halls.

The Herald is Official Organ

The Cameron Herald was named official organ for the city of Cameron for the period of April, 15, 1939 to April 15, 1940. This action was taken Tuesday night by the Council.

$1300 IN CURRENCY TAKEN IN ROBBERY

A lone bandit described as a young man about 25 years of age of slight build with a scar on the left side of his mouth and very nervous, walked into the Thorndale State Bank at 12:30 Tuesday afternoon and took approximately $1300 in cash.

As the robber walked into the bank he found it deserted with only Alvin Heintze, assistant cashier on duty. A bank customer whose name could not be ascertained, left the bank after cashing a check as the lone robber drove up to the curb and parked his machine. As the bandit entered the bank he pointed a small calibre pistol at Mr. Heintze and exclaimed, "This is a matter of life and death with me and I need this money!" He ordered Mr. Heintze into the vault of the bank and when the cashier did not move as swiftly as the bandit desired struck him across the head with the revolver. The cashier lay on the floor as the robber backed to the cash drawer and began stuffing his pockets with currency all the while pointing the revolver at the prostrate Heintze. Mr. Heintze lying on the floor, looked up at the robber who said, "I did not hit you hard enough. I should have knocked you out." Mr. Heintze made no effort to get up.

In the commotion incident to striking Mr. Heintze over the head with the revolver the bandit's hat fell from his head. After he had left the bank with the money he returned and picked up his hat. The robber then made a dash for his machine, a 1937 Chevrolet equipped with a radio. He drove south on the main street of Thorndale, turned right one block

Town Clock Dismantled When Court House Dome Torn Away, Will Soon Tell Time of Day Again

Soon again will the familiar tolling of the time of day by the much beloved court house clock be heard. Commissioners' Court is in receipt of a letter from government officials who inspected the contract stating that it had been approved.

The bid of George Lane of Waco was accepted by the commissioners court at its meeting a few weeks ago at which time bids were opened. Since the contract has been approved construction can be begun at once and it is expected to be not more than forty-five days before the work is completed.

The clock which was torn away several months ago when the court house tower was removed during a repair and improvement project on the building had endeared itself to many citizens of Milam county through the years since its installation when the court house was built. The new time system will be run by electricity from a central point and will record the time from four faces, one for each of the cardinal points. The bell has already been re-installed and the sound effect will be the same as it was before the clock was removed.

ROTARY CELEBRATES FIRST YEAR HERE

Cameron Rotary Club's first year was observed with a program of much interest on Wednesday.

A special message of congratulations was printed in the Belton Rotary Club weekly publication and distributed to members at the luncheon. The Belton Rotary Club gave the program for the day.

One year ago on last Wednesday the Cameron Rotary Club held its first luncheon. The club was organized by the Belton Club and the program committee invited the club to celebrate with Cameron Rotarians their first year in Rotary.

Tom Yarell of the Belton Club was toastmaster and presented the program. Other Belton Rotarians present were Cecil Garrett and Fred Lewis.

The program opened with a review of the play entitled, "Bury the Dead" by Shaw, and interpreted by Miss Thelma Robuck of the speech department of Mary Hardin-Baylor College. This play is a fantasy, a startling, heart gripping story of the horrors of war. Six soldiers are killed and are buried. They arise again and refuse to be burned. Miss Robuck's review of this play was one of the high lights of interesting programs that have featured Cameron's Rotary club luncheons during the year.

A talk on Rotary by Rev. Grady Metcalf, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Temple and a member of the Temple Rotary Club concluded the program. Rotarian Metcalf gave one of the most inspirational interpretations of the spirit of Rotary yet heard in Cameron. Rotary is world wide, is non-sectarian and non-political and in its ranks are men of every nationality and every tongue. How Rotary molds better citizens and seeks to promote friendships and the good neighbor policy was brought out in this fine address.

At the conclusion of the program Dr. Clifford Swift, president of the Cameron Rotary Club, expressed the appreciation of the club members for the interest Belton Rotarians have continued to manifest in the critical first year of the growth and development of the Cameron club.

MRS. J. L. BURROUGHS BURIED MARCH 14

Mrs. J. L. Burroughs, 53 died at the family residence near Maysfield at 6 a. m. on Thursday, April 13, 1939. Mrs. Burroughs had been in declining health for a number of years and during the last few weeks her condition had become more grave. If she had lived until Sunday, April 16, she would have celebrated with her husband her birthday.

Mrs. Burroughs was a native of Mississippi. She came to Texas with her parents at the age of two. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Johnson, the parents, settled near Jones Prairie in this county and Mrs. Burroughs had spent almost 51 years of her life in this vicinity. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. W. W. Booth of Tuscaloosa, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs had no children.

When news came of the death of Mrs. Burroughs there was universal sorrow in the hearts of the people who had known her for her splendid Christian character and extended immediate and wholehearted sympathy to her husband, left alone in the shadow of a great sorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Burroughs endeavored to themselves by their good example of citizenship many people not only in their own neighborhood but in Cameron and throughout the county as well.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at Little River Baptist Church. Rev. Bailey of the Maysfield Presbyterian church conducted the services and interment was made in Little River cemetery, a historical burial ground of the pioneers.

Pall bearers were Grady Phipps, T. L. Linham, Willard Cooper, Wm. Freeman, E. S. Hollingsworth and John Thweatt.

To Probe Death of Farmer Found Shot

Official sources here Wednesday disclosed that the incoming grand jury will be asked to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of J. H. McDonald who was found shot in the cab of his truck about ten o'clock Saturday evening at the east curb of the Cameron Hotel.

Officers told The Herald that McDonald had recently become estranged from his wife who lives at Maysfield and that he was believed to have been saddened by this and other experiences. Justice of Peace, Womack Brashear, called to make an inquest is withholding his verdict pending the investigation which was requested by the office of the criminal district attorney. Officers said that members of the dead man's family expressed belief that McDonald had been slain by another but officers here were inclined to believe he took his own life.

According to official information the body of the 34 year old farmer was found by his brothers, Ted McDonald of North Elm and Dwight McDonald of Ben Arnold who are reported to have been searching for him. According to officers McDonald had been dead for more than an hour. The body was slumped over

Roosevelt Makes Plea to Dictators

President Roosevelt in a direct appeal to Hitler of Germany and Mussolini of Italy, Saturday made a dramatic and forceful eleventh hour appeal for peace.

The text of the appeal addressed today by President Roosevelt to Chancellor Hitler, with a copy from Secretary of State Hull to Premier Mussolini, is as follows:

"His Excellency Adolf Hitler Chancellor of the German Reich, Berlin (Germany.)

"You realize I am sure that throughout the world hundreds of millions of human beings are living today in constant fear of a new war or even a series of wars.

"The existence of this fear—and the possibility of such a conflict—is of definite concern to the people of the United States for whom I speak, as it must also be to the peoples of the other nations of the entire western hemisphere. All of them know that any major war, even if it were to be confined to other continents, must bear heavily on them during its continuance and also for generations to come.

An Opportune Time

"Because of the fact that after the acute tension in which the world has been living during the past few weeks there would seem to be at least a momentary relaxation—because no troops are at this moment on the march—this may be an opportune moment for me to send you this message.

"On a previous occasion I have addressed you in behalf of the settlement of political, economic, and social problems by peaceful methods and without resort to arms.

Back to Threats

"But the tide of events seem to have reverted to the threat of arms. If such threats continue, it seems inevitable that much of the world must become involved in common ruin. All the world, victor nations, vanquished nations, and neutral nations will suffer. I refuse to believe that the world is, of necessity, such a prisoner of destiny. On the contrary, it is clear that the leaders of great nations have it in their power to liberate their peoples from the disaster that impends. It is equally clear that in their own minds and in their own hearts the peoples themselves desire that their fears be ended.

Three Rubbed Out

"It is, however unfortunately necessary to take cognizance of recent facts.

"Three nations in Europe and one in Africa have seen their independent existence terminated. A vast territory in another independent nation of the far east has been occupied by a neighboring state. Reports, which we trust are not true, insist that further acts of aggression are contemplated against still other independent nations. Plainly the world is moving toward the moment when this situation must end in catastrophe unless a more rational way of guiding events is found.

"You have repeatedly asserted that you and the German people have no desire for war. If this is true there need be no war.

No Right to Make War

"Nothing can persuade the peoples of the earth that any governing power has any right or need to inflict the consequences of war on it own or any other people save in the cause of self-evident home defense.

"In making this statement we as Americans speak not through self-interest or fear or weakness. If we speak now it is with the voice of strength and with friendship for mankind. It is still clear to me that international problems can be solved at the council table.

"It is therefore no answer to the plea for peaceful discussion for one side to plead that unless they receive assurances before hand that the verdict will be theirs, they will not lay aside their arms. In conference rooms, as in courts, it is necessary that both sides enter upon the discussion in good faith, assuming that substantial justice will accrue to both; and it is customary and necessary that they leave their arms outside the room where they confer.

A Frank Statement

"I am convinced that the cause of world peace would be greatly advanced if the nations of the world were to obtain a frank statement relating to the present and future policy of governments.

"Because the United States, as one of the nations of the western hemisphere, is not involved in the immediate controversies which have arisen in Europe, I trust that you may be willing to make such a statement of policy to me as the head of a nation far removed from Europe in order that I, acting only with the responsibility and obligation of a friendly intermediary, may communicate such declaration to other nations now apprehensive to the course which the policy of your government may take.

31 Nations Listed

"Are you willing to give assurance that your armed forces will not attack or invade the territory or possessions of the following independent nations: Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, The Netherlands, Belgium, Great Britain and Ireland, France, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Russia, Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey, Iraq, the Arabias, Syria, Palestine, Egypt and Iran?

"Such an assurance clearly must apply not only to the present day but also to a future sufficiently long to give every opportunity to work by peaceful methods for a more permanent peace. I therefore suggest that you construe the word 'future' to apply to a minimum period of assured non-aggression—ten years at the least—a quarter of a century if we dare look that far ahead.

Offers Negotiations

"If such assurance is given by your government, I will immediately transmit to the governments of the nations I have named and I will simultaneously inquire whether, as I am reasonably sure, each of the nations enumerated above will in turn give like assurance for transmission to you.

"Reciprocal assurances such as I have outlined will bring to the world an immediate measure of relief.

"I propose that if it is given, two essential problems shall promptly be discussed in the resulting peaceful surroundings, and in those discussions the government of the United States will gladly take part.

Disarmament and Trade

"The discussions which I have in mind relate to the most effective and immediate manner through which the people of the world can obtain progressive relief from the crushing burden of armament which is each day bringing them more closely to the brink of economic disaster. Simultaneously the government of the United States would be prepared to take part in discussions looking toward the most practical manner of opening up avenues of international trade to the end that every nation of the earth may be enabled to buy and sell on equal terms in the world market as well as to possess assurance of obtaining the materials and products of peaceful economic life.

A Complex Problem

"At the same time, those governments other than the United States, which are directly interested could undertake such political discussions as they may consider necessary or desirable.

"We recognize complex world problems which affect all humanity but we know that study and discussion of them must be held in an atmosphere of peace. Such an atmosphere of peace cannot exist if negotiations are overshadowed by the threat of force or by the fear of war.

"I think you will not misunderstand the spirit of frankness in which I send you this message. Heads of great governments in this hour are literally responsible for the fate of humanity in the coming years. They cannot fail to hear the prayers of their peoples to be protected from the foreseeable chaos of war. History will hold them accountable for the lives and the happiness of all—even unto the least.

"I hope that your answer will make it possible for humanity to lose fear and regain security for many years to come.

"A similar measure is being addressed to the chief of the Italian government.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

TAXES EAT STEEL WORKERS' BREAD

The greatest enemy of the future general well-being of our country today is not any foreign country or any alien political parties on our soil.

It is TAXES!

Burdensome taxes on the INDUSTRY and on the WORKERS OF AMERICA—even growing more burdensome—are the upper and nether millstones that are grinding to a shapeless mass the FUNDAMENTAL INSTITUTIONS of our nation. For the institutions are found on FREE PRIVATE ENTERPRISE, which today under the oppressive and un-American tax "ideologies" of the new deal are threatened with annihilation.

A concrete instance of this is the DEMOCRATICALLY OWNED private enterprise of the United States Steel corporation, the largest industrial concern of its kind in the world.

This corporation is OWNED by 219,727 STOCKHOLDERS. These stockholders are located in every state in the Union and they come from EVERY WALK IN LIFE.

It is therefore a NATIONAL private enterprise.

Of these stockholders, 91,013 are women, 103,447 are men, 10,013 are trustees or guardians, 147 are insurance companies, 913 are charitable, religious and educational organizations.

Now comes this astounding truth: Last year, stockholders owning common stock of this vital American enterprise—168,399—strong—received exactly NOTHING in dividends, although the world is using more steel than ever!

There were no dividends because the United States Steel corporation was operating at A LOSS of $7,714,454!

But in spite of this loss, federal, state, county and local governments collected $18,842,131 from the corporation, or exactly $5.61 per share of common stock.

In other words, THE POLITICIANS, INSTEAD OF THE OWNERS OF THE STOCK, GOT THE DIVIDENDS!

The investors, including the insurance companies, charitable, religious and educational organizations, were contributing to the support of tax-gathering bureaucracies when they were buying steel.

This is the way steel is being eaten up by the tax-buzzards:

In 1938 steel's tax bill OTHER THAN AND IN ADDITION TO FEDEARL INCOME TAX was TWENTY-TWO PERCENT GREATER than in 1929 and THIRTY PERCENT GREATER than in 1926.

For "social security (which is neither social nor secure) United States Steel contributed $11,309,215, or $1.30 a common share—and it is GOING UP!

In his report to the annual stockholders' meeting at Hoboken, Edward Stettinius, Jr., chairman of the board of the steel corporation, said:

"Taxes loom MORE FORMIDABLE than ever as a cost factor. They impose a heavy charge against income and one from which we SEE NO RELIEF."

Thus we see in CONCRETE FACTS AND FIGURES how the DESTRUCTIVE taxation of this administration is WRECKING INDUSTRY, and thereby INCREASING UNEMPLOYMENT.

What is here true of the United States Steel corporation is just as true of every other business, great and little, in the land.

How can there be a "breathing spell" for business when the murderous hands of CONFISCATORY TAXATION have it by the throat and are choking the breath of enterprise out of its body?

How can there be a lessening of unemployment when the tax-buzzards eat up ALL profits, ALL capital, ALL investments?

Supreme Court Justice Frankfurter the other day in a decision said that Chief Justice Marshall's famous warning that "THE POWER TO TEXAS IS THE POWER TO DESTROY" was a "rhetorical flourish."

The facts here presented are NOT rhetorical flourishes, but something as real as MISERY, DESPAIR and BANKRUPTCY—caused by DESTRUCTIVE TAXATION.—

problem confronting the present system.

Until a better method is devised to control the distribution of these beverages it is the duty first of enforcement officers and second the citizen to formulate a consistent far-reaching plan of co-operation to stamp out the subsidiary evils that spring up in any system of control without proper regulation and supervision.

This is said in a spirit of co-operation. It is hoped that these sentiments will find instant and universal echo in the understanding of all our people and especially those who are engaged in the business. This is written to pledge our co-operation to the officers and to lend the influence of this column in exposing any condition or lack of faith on the part of any official sworn to uphold the law who willfully neglects his duty and fails to protect the results of the recent expression by the people of Milam county.

Who knows most about Building cars?

Ford has built more than one-third of all the automobiles ever built in the world

THERE are more Ford cars in use today than any other make. And there are more Ford V-8s than any other 8-cylinder car.

The 1939 Ford V-8 represents the broadest experience in building cars any manufacturer ever had. You will find values in it far beyond what any other maker can put into a car at the low Ford price.

Ford performance, traditional for a generation, has reached new heights in the 1939 V-8.

And now Ford style leadership is equally outstanding. "The smartest cars on the road" is the way owners describe their new Fords. Smartest in action. Smartest in appearance. Leaders, as they deserve to be.

CAMERON ROTARIANS

ANNIVERSARY WEEK

On April 18th, 1938, the Cameron Rotary Club, held its first official meeting, in the basement of the Methodist church. When District Governor, Allen S. Pimintel of Houston, presented this club with its Charter. A day ever to be remembered by every Rotarian, to be a member of a world-wide organization. It was on this day we all were inspired with the perpetual Rotary Spirit, which prevails in every True Rotarian. Our Sponsors the Belton Rotary Club, will on this our anniversary day again be our guests, and will have charge of the program. Let us all show our appreciation to the Belton Rotarians by being present at this our Anniversary meeting. It is not the principle of Rotary International to cover the front pages of what they have done, so in the eyes of the public it might look as though we have accomplished very little, but to the individual Rotarian, we can turn back the pages of the past year, and see what this young Organization has accomplished in the past twelve months. So in beginning a new year, the Cameron Rotary Club will endeavor to better, carry out the great principles of Rotary International. We have but one lamp by which our feet are guided and that is the lamp of experience. We know no way of judging the future but by the past.

We grow great by dreams. All big men are dreamers. They see things in the soft haze of a Spring day or in the red fire of a long Winter evenings. Some of us let these great dreams die, but others nourish and protect them, nurse them through bad days till they bring them to the sunshine and light which come always to those who sincerely hope that their dreams will come true.

The district conference was held in Houston Monday and Tuesday of this week, again without a representative from the Cameron Rotary Club which was beyond our control, not having a member able to attend at this time.

On the eve of the observance of our anniversary we learn with much regret that John Copley is soon to leave Cameron to become a citizen of Seattle, Washington, where he takes a position in his chosen profession as a druggist. The club will lose one of its most loyal members. For almost the entire first year Mr. Copley has been a member of the program committee and during much of the time has been personally responsible for many of our outstanding programs, notably the recent meeting when peace officers of Milam county were guests of the club and Colonel Homer Garrison of Austin, director of the Public Safety Department, was our guest speaker. John has worked hard for the success of the club and we all regret more than we can express that he is soon to leave us. The heart and hand of every Rotarian is pledged for his success and happiness and that of his fine family in the new home he will find in the far west.

Our meeting for April 26, the fourth for the month is important to every member of the club because it is the date on which members will elect a board of directors for the coming year. Every member of the club is able and capable of serving in any capacity as an official of the club and for this reason all members have been placed in nomination for a place on the board of directors. At any time after the election of directors the board may meet and elect officers for the new year. The new officers will become officially responsible for the club on the first day of July. The club should have a representative expression upon the selection of these directors. Every member is urged to attend the luncheon on Wednesday, April 26.

The secretary told the editor confidentially the other day that he had a number of receipts which as yet have not been issued for past quarter's dues. In the event you find it difficult to get in touch with the secretary if you will consult the editor of Cogs he will make the engagement for you.

Our Sweetheart, Miss Nelta Dierr, is setting a splendid example for attendance. She has attended every luncheon since her election and we are proud of her loyalty and we are proud of her and her contribution to the success of our meetings.

Last year the board of directors received a number of proposals for membership. The editor of Cogs suggests that these cards should at once be put through the proper channels so that the club may have the benefit of these fine prospects. Rotary is designed for men of this type and the unfilled classifications are a challenge to every member of the club. Let's do something about it.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to gratefully acknowledge the many expressions of sympathy and deeds of kindness extended us by our neighbors and friends during our recent great bereavement. We take this means to express our sincerest thanks and appreciation to all who assisted us in any way. We wish especially to thank those who sent floral offerings and we will hold in grateful remembrance every consideration shown us.

Charged With Burglary

Jack Wilkerson of Cameron was arrested Tuesday morning and placed in jail by officers. He is charged with burglarizing a box car and taking two sacks of flour.

Wilkerson took the flour to two local grocers stating that his family had purchased the flour on Saturday and since his father had also purchased a sack they did not need both and he wanted his flour exchanged.

In his statement to officers Wilkerson said he did not obtain the flour from the box car but got it under the wharf. The seal had been broken and the car had been entered through the door.

John Wilkerson of Minerva made a visit to Cameron during the week.

Judge and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp and her sister and brother, Mrs. J. D. Dobbins and William R. Rogers, visited with relatives in Waco Saturday.

Mrs. Lena Archer has returned from Houston where she spent ten days visiting her niece, Mrs. B. A. Derden. While there she attended a reception given to Mae West, the movie actress, and also the first big baseball game of the season.

May Day Child Welfare Day

"The purpose of the May Day celebration is to focus attention upon our most precious national asset—our children."

"The objectives for Texas Child Health Day are, to inform every parent and citizen of Texas of the primary place that the healthful, safe and wholesome development of Texas Children occupies in the growth and welfare of our state, and that the programs and work of Texas agencies are contributing daily toward the healthful, safe and wholesome development so urgently needed."

"The Government of Texas has issued a proclamation setting apart May Day as the initial day of a week when all Texas' child health, development and welfare projects shall be examined by the public with a view toward co-operating in the plans of Federal, State and local agencies in promoting public consciousness of the fact that 'In the Health of its Children lies the Future of Texas.'"

J. B. Boatright of Marlow was a business visitor here on Saturday.

Knights of Columbus Elect Delegates To State Convention

The last meeting of the Knights of Columbus proved very interesting as much friendly rivalry was apparent due to the election of delegates to the State Convention of the Knights of Columbus to be held in Waco the ninth of May. The following were elected: Grand Knights John C. Andres and William J. Parma; alternates are Joe Geiser and Emil Boedeker.

Due to the Knights observance of the Lenten season the Cameron council has not been very active but now since it is over several plans are being studied to make it one of the outstanding councils of the State. One is the annual picnic which is attended by the members and their families only.

Revelation of Spy Plots in America is Made In Picture for Cameron Tuesday

When he wasn't busy winning the war, Warren Williams played leading roles with an amateur company in France. Doughboy audiences enjoyed his acting, and Warren quickly discovered that he, too, enjoyed acting.

That is the chief reason Warren Williams is currently to be found at the Cameron next Tuesday with Ida Lupino in "The Lone Wolf Spy Hunt," Columbia's mystery-comedy in which he plays the debonair ex-rogue created by Louis Joseph Vance.

A native of Aitkin, Minn., William was originally destined for journalism—his father owned a newspaper—but decided instead he would rather be a marine engineer. Then came the war, and the entertainment-hungry troops who so tremendously enjoyed their fellow-soldier's histrionics. When the war ended, William returned to America, but to Broadway instead of to Aitkin.

The tall, poised, good-looking William clicked instantly. He was handed Richard Dix's role in a road company of "I Love You." Then he received a chance to appear on Broadway in Rachel Crothers' "Expressing Willie." Alexander Woollcott wrote of him, "He has a Barrymore accent in his speech and a Barrymore tone in his voice, and he is the very image of the young John Drew who played Petruchio."

The elder William, in Aitkin, had never fully given up hope of Warren becoming an editorial light. But when he read Woollcott's statement he advised Warren to stay in the theatre with the Drews and the Barrymores. If there was an intimated hint of sarcasm in the wire, Warren ignored it. He remained on Broadway to star in such memorable plays as "Let Us Be Gay," "Twelve Miles Out," "Those We Love" and "The Vinegar Tree."

At the peak of this fame, he made his film debut in 1931 in "Expensive Women" opposite Dolores Costello. Subsequent films include "The Honor of the Family," "Goodbye Again."

Among the callers Saturday at the Herald was W. F. Fisher who lives on Route 3 out of Cameron. He will read this newspaper again in 1939.

Miss Patsy McGregor who has been a member of the Yarrellton school faculty for the past year has announced her resignation to accept a position with the Ben Arnold school. Miss McGregor has taught at Ben Arnold prior to her position at Yarrellton. Miss McGregor has many friends among patrons of the school who regret to see her leave but who wish for her every success in her new position. Miss Fannie Lee Murff who taught this year at North Elm will succeed Miss McGregor as primary teacher at Yarrellton.

Mrs. P. L. Bergum of Ben Arnold was hostess to the 42 Leisure Club on last Thursday afternoon with twelve club members and two visitors, Mrs. Robert Faulkner and Mrs. Willis Vogelsang. Mrs. Bergum's home was beautifully decorated with potted flowers plants and ferns. Each guest received a tiny bouquet of flowers with the refreshment course. Mrs. Lee Marek held high, Mrs. Wm. Sell, second high. Traveling prize went to Mrs. Leo Laake while table cuts fell to Mesdames Sell, Crouch and Jurgens. A delicious lunch of chicken salad and lettuce leaf, angel food and punch were served. The club adjourned to meet April 26th, with Mrs. Arnold Judgens as hostess. Mrs. John Matyastik, Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Graves of El Paso left Cameron early Sunday morning for their home after several days visit here. Mrs. Graves and their young son, have been visiting here for several weeks. She was the former Goldie Burke. They have been living in El Paso for several years. Mr. Graves is in the insurance business. He has been unusually successful, leading in the field for west Texas and Southern New Mexico. He writes industrial and ordinary life. Both Mr. and Mrs. Graves were reared in Cameron. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Graves and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Burke.

On last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Melvin Weems was hostess to the Quilting Club honoring a special guest, her sister, Mrs. J. M. Fuller of Yarrellton. A number of friends and guests were present for the occasion. The honoree received many lovely and useful kitchen utensils as shower gifts from the club. After a nice evening of fun had been enjoyed the hostess served a delicious refreshment plate dutch lunch style.

Judge and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp were among the many from Cameron to attend the quarterly conference of the Methodist church in Marlin on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whites of Minerva spent Sunday with their son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Arnold at Austin, the occasion being the birthday of Mr. Arnold. The group attended the style show at Barton Springs in the afternoon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Sicientist, on Sunday, April 23.

The Golden Text is: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me" (Psalm 23:4.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always bounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord" (I. Corinthians 15:58.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science and Health textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals, will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality to light" (page 482.)

A Sixteen Year Plan That Covers a Lifetime

Here is how the plan works. If death occurs during the first sixteen years after issuance of the policy, the beneficiary will receive a $10 monthly income for the next sixteen years (total of $1920.) At the end of this sixteen years the beneficiary will receive $1000, which will be paid either in a lump sum or on a monthly income plan according to the wishes of the insured.

This makes a total of $2920 this plan will pay if death occurs during the first sixteen years.

This plan also pays liberal dividends and if the dividends are left with the company to accumulate with interest then in later years when retirement age has been reached the accumulated value of these dividends may be added to the cash value of the policy as a retirement fund.

Mr. A. V. Wokaty of the Great Southern Life Insurance Company will be glad to explain to you how this plan will help you solve your problems, and you will be surprised at the reasonableness of the premium deposit required.

"First Sunday After Easter"PEACE

Delivered by
REV. T. F. O'SULLIVAN,
Burlington, Texas.

"Peace be to you." Because Our Lord chose to greet His Apostles after His resurrection in these words, He evidently intended these words to convey to them and to all future generations the fruit of His life and death. Peace is the only proper outcome of victory. But when the victory is divinely won, the peace it assures can be only divinely given to us.

There are times when peace would have to be bought at too high a price, when it would mean the forfeiture of rights we cannot renounce, when it would amount to a cowardly compromise or the betrayal of conscience and faith. Such peace, of course, we should not want. Such peace we must accept on no terms whatsoever. Such peace Our Lord does not give us. In the days of our early colonial history a certain patriot gained lasting fame by simply telling his countrymen that he would rather die than surrender his political freedom. "Give me liberty," he cried, "or give me death." Now in the spiritual order, the moral life, the same attitude, the same conviction, the courageous action is often demanded of us. Cardinal Newman reminds us in one of his profound reflections that "holiness is better than peace." But a greater than he—Our Lord, Jesus Christ, has told us that there is no truce possible with the enemies of God and our souls. The Prince of Peace came to bring the sword. His kingdom of light must be won by conflict with the powers of darkness. His followers in the world can follow Him only by refusing to follow the world, only, indeed, by overcoming the world. "Whoever is born of God overcometh the world. And this is the victory which overcometh the world—our faith." Yes, faith is essentially a victory. There is no peace without a struggle.

But it does seem that all these conditions for gaining the peace of God contradict the very nature of peace; they call for open and incessant warfare. How shall we resolve this paradox? St. Augustine tells us, in one brief definition which contains a whole volume, that "peace is the tranquility of order." There is perfect peace only where there is perfect order. That is heaven, where order is the first law of being. Here on earth we must achieve what peace is possible—and it is possible by removing from our lives the elements of disorder, chief of which is sin; by bringing our lives into harmony with the purpose of life; by submitting wholly to the will of God, down to the very last and least desire of our secret heart. The will of God in which our peace lies does not require us to rate anything except that which is hateful to God. It does not put enmity in our hearts toward any man. It does not inspire us to condemn even the worst of men. It does demand this, and only this: that for the love of God and our souls we take up the fight every day against the world, the flesh and the devil.

This is the foundation of all true peace. We must know how to recognize the difference between a true and a false peace. There is a false peace. It does not proceed from God. It cannot lead to God.

Generally speaking, there are four principal sources from which a false peace may arise. We shall look at them at work in everyday life, your's, mine, anybody's.

First of all, there is the man whose aim is low, whose standards are set by his convenience, his inclinations. Habitually he follows the line of least resistance. He is satisfied with himself because he measures himself by his own rules. He forgets, and prefers to forget, that his actual worth shall be determined by standards quite different from his own. This man enjoys a false peace. He has won no victory for the simple reason that he has made no fight. The long history of his tribe has this one story to tell—and this one warning to give: He who aims low will not only miss the mark—even his own low mark, he will most certainly fall below it! The seeds of spiritual decay are in his soul. He has no kinship with the heroes of God. He is a stranger to the power of an ideal. He is a minus quantity, a barren tree, an unprofitable servant. This is the fruit of a false peace.

There is secondly, the man who lets himself down easy, the slang phrase is quite expressive, by refusing to face the facts about himself. He juggles his conscience into conformity with his conduct. He manipulates words to suit the interpretation he wishes to put upon his actions. He will not call things by their names. At first his conscience may cry out in protest against this violence, like a thing that is being twisted out of its natural shape. It may continue to cry out accusingly for a time, only to be silenced by pretexts and promises:

"No, not that." It was not that which I really intended to do. Can't we find another word for it? It was not dishonesty and fraud but only a bit of shrewdness. And a man must be clever to get along these days, in this crooked world. No, it was not impurity, not lust—that ugly word! but only a harmless concession to human nature. After all, a man is not an angel." So runs the argument between this man and his conscience. Sooner or later one of them is going to win. There is a place to settle such questions. We are dealing with a totally different matter. We are dealing with a deliberately false conscience and the false peace it offers. It must come to one of two ends. It must be straightened out or sleep on its eternity. What an awakening it will have there!

Then there is, also the man whose egotism has carried him to such a degree of self-sufficiency that he has become a law unto himself. He believes implicitly and profoundly in the inerrancy of his own judgment. He places his opinions above the voice of the Church proclaiming the law of God. He has a mind of his own. He has reached his own conclusions about the right and wrong of certain matters. He is captain of his own soul. Such, I believe, is a fairly faithful picture of the man with whom God must deal in His own merciful way. For he is nearly beyond the influence of human persuasion. Something must happen to him by God's grace, to humble his pride, to shatter his false peace, to destroy his fool's paradise, to make him understand that the business of every creature of God is not to make the moral law, but to obey it. Only then will there be hope of true and lasting peace.

Finally, there is the man who always compares himself with someone weaker in virtue and then by reason of the difference he sees, draws a favorable, if not flattering, portrait of himself. A clever temptation is this, and one which even good people are not likely to escape altogether. Certainly it makes a true insight into our own impossible. But it seems to me there is even greater danger in the very human tendency to approve of our own conduct when and because it follows the example of others. We are surrounded by people. We make some of them our friends. We like them. We are disposed to feel that whatever they do cannot be very bad; otherwise they would not do it. We imitate them, borrow their words, copy their ways, acquire their habits, and fall in with their plans. All this we justify on the ground of our friendship. Beware of this snare. Let me suggest a rule to observe in choosing your friends. Here is that rule: "Your best friends will always be those who love God more than you." It may mean more than you love God, or more than they love you. But, above all, remember this; whoever may be your friend, do not follow his example slavishly. Weigh it first in the balance of right and wrong as you know them. And remember that human friends are only human after all. There is only one perfect FRIEND, only one whose love for you can never change, only one who offers you the peace of God.

Seniors Guests of Baptist Church Sunday

Southern Women Reply to Query

Wherever they go, the "Touring Reporters" find eager answers to their question, "Were you helped by CARDUI?" Of 1297 users queried among those of 12 states, 1206 stated CARDUI benefited them. That is 93 out of every 100! Users everywhere are glad to tell how CARDUI has made them want and enjoy food; how, with its help, they gained strength, energy, were thus relieved of the symptoms of "functional dysmenorrhea" due to malnutrition. Many also say that, when symptoms indicate the need, CARDUI in larger doses helps "at the time" to soothe the pain.

FARM CLUB NEWS

JONES PRAIRIE H. D. CLUB

"Children are more influenced by what their parents do than by what they say," said Mrs. W. J. Fountain in discussing 'Personality Development of Children' at Mrs. A. L. Burnett's, March 24th.

Honesty, truthfulness, unselfishness and kindness can be taught by example.

Giving a child the chance to do things for himself, and for others, will strengthen his character, and make him self-reliant.

A child's mental attitude toward his family; his neighbors and the world is but the reflection of the parents' attitude.

Take time to live with the children, developing each day their characters and personalities. It will help develop our own.

Clever Saint Patrick contests and songs were enjoyed during the recreation period.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Miss Ethel McKinney, Mesdames J. E. Lester, W. J. Fontaine, L. W. Marek, E. B. Yager, Hope Jamison, S. M. Harrell, J.

A. Jamison, J. R. Young, S. S. Stidham; and the following visitors: Mrs. L. L. Lord of Hungerford, Misses Roxie Allday, Hallie Jamison, Susie and Mary Atkinson.

"Keep a standard breed of eggs to keep market prices up," said Miss Wilson, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent who met with the Home Demonstration Club April 4th in the home of Miss Ethel McKinney.

The co-operation of all poultry raisers is necessary to keep this standard. Flocks should be culled at least twice a year; more often if they do not produce well.

A good well-balanced food ration should be fed to keep eggs a standard size. Only well-shaped standard size eggs should be set.

Cleanliness is very essential for well flavored eggs and meat. Poultry houses should be well ventilated and cleaned once a week. Burning all litter will keep down many diseases.

In hot weather eggs should be gathered in wire baskets, three times a day, kept in a cool place, and sent to market at least twice a week.

A home made candler can be made from an old tin can and an electric light or flashlight. Do not wash eggs, as it removes the chalky substance. This will open the pores of the egg and allow the water to evaporate.

Better prices should be had if eggs are graded according to color and size. Infertile eggs usually bring a better price.

It would be well if all chicken raisers would keep in mind the following chart:

1. Feed correctly.
2. Provide one clean nest to every 5 hens.
3. Produce infertile eggs.
4. Gather eggs 2 or 3 times a day in wire baskets.
5. Pre-cool and keep in cool place.
6. Candle, cool and grade.
7. Market twice weekly.
8. Protect from sun, wind, jolting.

FIESTA de SAN JACINTO

Founded in 1891, organized in 1896, this gala annual festival has a heritage of tradition dating back to the Spanish founders of San Antonio. Commemorating the birth of Texas' freedom, its gaiety includes the reception of King Antonio, gala carnivals, parades, coronations, dances, decorations, culminating in the unrivaled Battle of Flowers parade which, this year, will be held on Friday, April 21st, the anniversary of Santa Anna's memorable defeat by the Texans at the Battle of San Jacinto. Most gorgeous pageant of its kind, the Fiesta spreads an aura of splendor that makes it one of the most renowned held anywhere in the country.

No other beer duplicates the Flavor, Body and Quality that make PEARL Famous!

Once you've witnessed a festival like this, you realize what its brilliance and traditions do to make it matchless, unique, impossible to duplicate. And once you've tasted the rich, full-flavored goodness of PEARL Beer, you'll find it impossible to duplicate, too. And why? . . . The reason is in the bottle!

Every bottle of this robust, tangy brew brings you a uniform, sparkling pep and refreshment that adds zest to living. When thirst calls, be thirst-wise. Say, "Bottle of PEARL, please!"

Bank Robbery

then raced west two blocks to make another right turn and swerved to his left to cross the rails of the Missouri Pacific. As he made another left turn to point his machine out on the highway leading to Thrall, his car was almost overturned. The machine roared away down the high way and out of the city.

The streets of Thorndale were practically deserted at the noon hour as the bold bandit drove up to the bank. Officers said all indications are that the man was an amateur and seemed to be badly frightened by his experience, leaving many finger prints which were photographed. A report late Wednesday said that the finger prints were the same as those of a man recently held in Temple for investigation in connection with robberies there.

After the robbery as citizens began to congregate at the bank where they found Mr. Heintze with a large gash cut in his head by the blow from the bandit's revolver, it became known that the robber had spent most of the forenoon in Thorndale. He had talked with a filling station operator for almost an hour and it was remembered by other citizens that he had driven about the business district several times.

Rudolph Richter of Cameron driving a truck for Coca Cola Bottling Company, saw the bandit as he made his last turn to cross the railroad tracks. Mr. Richter had just emerged from a cafe across the street. As he learned of the robbery he pointed in the direction of the bandit who was then fleeing down the highway.

Officers here were notified and immediately left for the scene of the robbery. No trace of the bandit has been found and the finger prints were the only clues left by which officers hope to track down the lone robber. The Department of Public Safety in Austin broadcast a description of the man and details of the robbery but at the time of going to press no arrests had been made.

The bandit is believed to have turned off the highway south of Thorndale and east down country roads to the Houston highway or west to the hills that lie in Williamson county.

the wheel of the truck and beside it a revolver was found. McDonald had been shot through the heart, the bullet passing through the body and entering the seat of the truck. Powder burns were found on his left breast and also on his hands. The thumb of the right hand was lacerated, thought to have occurred when the gun was discharged.

According to reliable reports here McDonald is said to have been in Cameron early in the evening of Saturday returning home and again returning to Cameron parking his truck near the Cameron Hotel. Officers said that apparently the traffic noise of the early evening had so muffled the shot that the gun fire was not heard by anyone.

Officers said that McDonald went to the Parnell Shoe Shop to get his revolver which for sometime had been in possession of J. B. Parnell, deputy sheriff. He is said to have told Mr. Parnell he would return the revolver later. It was found on the seat of the truck beside the body.

Funeral services were held in Cameron at three o'clock Sunday afternoon from the First Baptist Church in Cameron with Rev. Joseph Underwood of Fort Worth and Rev. P. L. Caperton conducting the services. Deceased is survived by his widow and one son; parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald of Yarrington; four brothers, W. C. and Eugene McDonald of Ben Arnold; five sisters, Mrs. Willard Chapman of San Gabriel, Mrs. Carl Phipps of Cameron, Mrs. Frank Huegater of South Elm, another Mrs. Chapman who lives in west Texas and Mrs. Taylor who lives in the state of Oklahoma.

Prompt Help For A Listless Child

Scolding won't help a boy or girl who is listless, dull or cross from constipation. But, here's something that will!

If sluggish bowels have your child headachy, bilious, upset, give him a little Syrup of Black-Draught tonight. Like the original famed BLACK-DRAUGHT, its principal ingredient is an intestinal tonic-laxative. Helps impart tone to the bowel muscles.

Children like the taste of Syrup of Black-Draught. It is an all vegetable product. When simple directions are followed, its action is gentle, but prompt and complete. Comes in two sizes: 50c and 25c.

One Youth Gets Suspended Sentence;
One Held for Grand Jury Action

Owen Stidham, a minor, caught in the act of robbing the Lily Ice Cream Company in Cameron two weeks ago at an early hour on the morning of March 30, was removed from the custody of his parents by decision of Judge Graham Gillis in criminal district court and has been paroled to Rev. Maurice Grove, pastor of the First Christian Church. Custody of Stidham will be in effect until he reaches the age of 21 years. Criminal district attorney, Bill Morrison, said Thursday morning that in theory custody of this boy is in the court and the court may from time to time place the custody of the boy to any advantage as may appear just in the judgment of the court. The court according to Mr. Morrison reserved the right to change the present custody and to place it in the Gatesville State School for boys.

Morris Weems, over seventeen years of age who participated in two robberies with Stidham on the night of March 29, is facing charges and his case will be considered by the incoming grand jury.

At the time of the robbery of the Lily Ice Cream Company Weems had returned to his home. Earlier in the evening Stidham and Weems robbed Clore's Tailor Shop and the high school here taking an un-announced sum of money from each place.

Stidham entered the Lily Ice Cream Company alone and was captured by night policeman, Joe Richter as he climbed down a light pole leaving a sum of money on the awning of the Cameron Theatre adjoining. Night officers Dan Lunsford and John Eans took Stidham to jail where he escaped temporarily but was recaptured as he ran down the Santa Fe Railroad in the vicinity of the Weems Gin plant.

WAYNE BOGGAN BURIED AT LIBERTY

Funeral services for Wayne Boggan, 72 year old resident of Cameron, were conducted at the Liberty church on Friday afternoon April 14 at 3 o'clock with Rev. A. J. McCary, pastor of the First Methodist church of Cameron and Rev. Tilson Meynard, pastor of the First Baptist church of Hearne delivering the funeral sermons.

with the Masonic Lodge conducting services at the cemetery.

Citizens Urged
To Send in Seal
Checks at Once

Appeal sent out by the Milam County Child Welfare Board to citizens who were urged to buy Easter seals for crippled children have not been answered in part. The committee in charge of seals are urging citizens who have not yet responded to send in their purchases at once.

Milam county under the welfare work is charged with the responsibility of transporting crippled children to hospitals and these funds are necessary.

Mrs. Jule Coffield of Rockdale is chairman for the children's campaign and Mrs. George Childress, Jr., is treasurer.

Judge Graham Gillis is in Austin this week holding court.
